Newsagency Solutions

Sandstone Point Newsextra

This store was established in a brand new neighbourhood shopping centre. It was designed, built and installed by us for our Client. We worked with the Client's Contractors to coordinate the project. We are extremely happy with the Newsagency and know our Client is now looking forward to the growth of the Newsagency as the surrounding residential development grows in size.

Nundah Newsagency

We were invited to participate closely with both the Newsagent and Developer to design and construct a new larger and modern store in the new retail precinct. As with most new retail environments graphics played a major part in establishing the character of the store to encourage and foster a memorable experience for the consumers. All parties involved have expressed their appreciation of the expert service and professionalism from the team at Thomas Brown Shopfitters. We are extremely happy with the finished Newsagency.

Peregian Springs News

Having owned and operated an existing Newsagency in Noosa our client didn't hesitate to take this opportunity to capitalise on the growth of the popular coastal region when approached by the Developer. We are proud to have been invited to be involved and acknowledge the success of this project was due in part to the careful planning and attention to detail provided by both ourselves and our client.

Newsxpress Riverlink Ipswich

We relocated this Newsagency to the brand new Riverlink Shopping Complex into a modern, 'Branded' environment that will allow the store to grow with the surrounding community.

Our Client came back to us, trusting that we would deliver this project as we have his past stores.

We are all extremely happy with the end result and look forward to working together again.

Suncorp Newsagency

This store was closed for twelve months while the Suncorp Building on Albert Street underwent redevelopment. Initially, we were asked to remove the existing Newsagency and put it in storage. Twelve months later, after assisting our Client with design approvals and negotiations we were contracted to install the new Newsagency using existing fittings and marrying them into the new fixtures to suit the tenancy space. We are proud to proclaim that the Newsagency was installed on time and is reported to be trading well with positive feedback from customers.
